Property Description

Set with an overview of a jungle covered valley and the white water coastline up to Manuel Antonio, this home was designed for simplicity inside and all of Costa Rica's natural beauty outside. Pull through the sliding wood gate that provides security and privacy and right into a carport. From there you or your guests can enter directly into the kitchen, walk along a sidewalk to the "front door," or go right through the back of the carport to the patio/pool area. Either way, when you go inside you will find a large living area that includes a kitchen designed for whatever level of meal preparation you are inclined to do, a bar or table dining area, and a living area that connects right out to a large patio and the swimming pool. It all transitions easily between indoor and outdoor living so you can enjoy either. There are 2 bedrooms and a "half" that can be used for a nice office or studio or even overflow sleeping in a pinch.
