Property Description

This mountain, ocean and valley view vacation property is a truly unique example of the potential for living a good life in Ojochal – the expat capital of the Southern Zone of Costa Rica. There are three bungalows, a caretaker cabin and a pool area with a large rancho. In addition to the beautiful views from the property, there is a river within walking distance with a natural swimming hole and a semi-private waterfall (with public access) that you will likely get to enjoy all to yourself any day of the week! Keep this secret close to your heart. The three bungalows each have 2 bedrooms and one bathroom with large shower. Each bungalow has a covered deck for your guests to enjoy a morning tea while they take in the view. In the common area, the pool overlooks the ocean. A shared BBQ area, outdoor shower and a bathroom are available, too, to enhance the guest experience of the property.
