Property Description

One of the truest examples of a diamond in the rough is for sale on Costa Rica's South Pacific coast! The views from this one acre property between Uvita and Ojochal will grab you from the moment you climb up to this two bedroom with big potential. See the Three Sisters rock formations, the Ballena Rock and Caño Island in full view right from your doorstep! Modern homes in this location sell for many hundreds of thousands more than what you will pay for this property with the exact same front-row ocean view! At present, a spacious but simple two-bedroom home sits on this luxury lot. Built with economy in mind, this property comes with a small pool and basic amenities that you will likely want to upgrade, but the structure of the home is sound and well thought out. Two spacious bedrooms provide a platform for what can be an elegant expansion, such as adding an ensuite to the master and upgrading the kitchen to a more high-end fashion.
