Property Description

This property is a rare oceanfront find in Costa Rica - a titled home, nestled on a pristine beach in the peaceful, undiscovered gem of a community called Playa Junquillal. Few places feel as special as Junquillal, where families and friends gather to enjoy turtle hatchling releases as the sunset presents unparalleled beauty over the Pacific Ocean. You, your family, friends or clients – whoever stays here – will fall in love with the experience of spending time together eating meals on the terrace, strolling up and down the beach and lounging in the pool. Nearby surf breaks, snorkeling spots and idyllic swimming beaches provide endless opportunities to relax and explore nature, in a community that is only 1.25 hours away from an international airport and a 30-minute drive from the bustling tourism hub of Playa Tamarindo. Junquillal provides residents with the quality of life people crave when they seek refuge in the tropics – a close-knit community where neighbors care about one another.
